Dean's Welcome

It is a great honour and pleasure to welcome you as international students to the International School for Social and Business Studies (ISSBS). We hope your study in Celje and Slovenia will be a rewarding academic, social and cultural experience.

ISSBS is a dynamic and perspective faculty that offers contemporary and internationally comparable study programmes, interesting for students as well as its wider social-economic environment. The faculty has already achieved local, national and international recognition.

Internationalization of higher education contributes to creation of new knowledge, sharing of best practices and development of modern societies and individuals in general. Studying in an international environment is characterised by the coming together of people with different cultural orientations, thinking patterns, perceptions and emotions; people who must adapt their skills, attitudes and behaviour in order to function in an intercultural context and be enriched by it.

We strive to equip our students with applicable knowledge and experience that will be useful in their future careers. At the same time, we encourage inspiring ideas, creative initiatives and a good working atmosphere for all of us.

International School for Social and Business Studies

International School for Social and Business Studies (ISSBS) was founded in 2006. It develops and implements curricula in the fields of economics, business and administrative sciences at all three levels of the study (bachelor, masters and doctoral). It is also active in the related fields of research and international cooperation. All six study programmes were developed in accordance with the Bologna guidelines and accredited in Slovenia. Master's programme Knowledge Management is also internationally accredited by the Swiss Accreditation Agency FIBAA.

ISSBS curriculum stresses the importance of practical training and students' projects with industry. Experts from business sector are regularly involved in the programme delivery, and thereby the exchange of theory and practice is facilitated. ISSBS has signed cooperation agreements with many regional companies and other organizations. Several round tables related to educational leadership processes and relevant social and business topics, as well as a series of diplomatic evenings, which are designed for both, students and general public are organised on regular basis. Moreover, meetings with employers, counsellors in secondary schools and employment agencies are being held regularly in order to keep all stakeholders involved into the study processes. Innovations, responsiveness and adaptability to new trends are the specific advantages of the ISSBS.

Internationalization is an important ISSBS focus, which is not implemented only through the mobility of students, faculty and other staff, but also through the implementation of international summer schools and direct involvement of foreign experts and professors in the delivery of the courses. In addition, ISSBS is the member of many international and regional organizations (EAIE, UNAI, Danube Excellence Consortium, Regional Chamber of Commerce Celje). Moreover, ISSBS cooperates with more than 40 European universities.

The research activity is strongly developed at the institution. ISSBS implements national research projects acquired through public tenders by Slovenian Research Agency (SRA), as well as in other tenders financed by the European Structural Funds, ministries or municipalities. ISSBS is carrying out 11 research, development and educational projects, which are funded mainly from EU programmes (for example Erasmus+): CiSoTRA, RoMigSc, EU:HELM, €U-iMoP, Feedback, NUCIF, JOVITAL, HESS, Passport to Export ... ISSBS also implements a research programme named »Management of Education and Employment in Knowledge Society« (programme period from 2019 to 2024).

Apart from it, ISSBS has been awarded the international HR Excellence in Research recognition. It became one of the national contact points Euraxess as well. Institution annually implements the international scientific conference MakeLearn, various research seminars, and Student Research Conference KoMe.

An important part of the support infrastructure to the research activities at ISSBS is also the Publishing House, which issues teaching materials for students, scientific publications such as monographs, and international scientific journal The International Journal of Management, Knowledge and Learning (ISSN 2232-5107). It is also a co-founder of the international academic publishing house ToKnowPress together with Kasetsart University, Thailand and Maria Curie-Skłodowska University, Poland.

ECTS and Grading System

The European Credit Transfer System - ECTS was developed by the European Commission and it defines the evaluation of students' workload in a form of credit points. Higher education in Slovenia has become evaluated with credits as a part of the Bologna reform. The purpose of unified European credit system is to achieve comparability of different study programmes and to enable mobility between higher education institutions in Slovenia as well as internationally. ECTS is based on actual students' workload, transparency of study programmes and students' success (Criteria for credit assignment to study programmes according to ECTS, Official Gazette of Republic of Slovenia, no. 124/2004, 19. 11. 2004).

Every academic year in Europe is evaluated with 60 ECTS credit points. At ISSBS, 1 ECTS credit point represents 25 students' working hours; one academic year last 1500 students' working hours.

ECTS and institutional grading scale:

Slovenian grade	ECTS grade	Definition
10 (Excellent)	A (Excellent)	Outstanding performance with only minor errors.
9 (Very good)	B (Very good)	Above the average standard but with some errors.
8 (Very good)	C (Good)	Generally sound work with a number of notable errors.
7 (Good)	D (Satisfactory)	Fair but with significant shortcomings.
6 (Poor)	E (Sufficient)	Performance meets the minimum criteria.
5-1 (Unsatisfactory)	F, FX (Fail)	Considerable further work is required.

Getting to Know Slovenia

Slovenia is the only country in Europe that combines the Alps, the Mediterranean, the Pannonian Plain and the Karst. It combines remarkable beauty, sprawling forests, traditional crafts and ancient monuments with modern architecture and a cutting-edge arts and cultural life. Located at the north eastern end of the Adriatic Sea, this small, Alpine country controls some of Europe's major transit routes and is home to sincere, hospitable people of great diligence.

The majority of people live in towns and cities, but a significant number live in the countryside. Agriculture accounts for only a small proportion of the workforce, while the majority work in services and manufacturing. Slovenes are renowned as a diligent, hard-working nation, part of the reason that Slovenia is the wealthiest of the new EU members.

Slovenia is bordering with Croatia, Hungary, Austria and Italy, which makes it multicultural and multilingual. For sure you will be pleased by this information, because that means no stressing out when asking for directions, a good restaurant, a taxi or whatever you will need. Everyone will understand you and you will discover that most of the people speak a solid English. English is taught at school, German and Italian are widely used and over 70% of population can have a conversation in at least two foreign languages.

Foreigners who are not included in the health insurance system of the Republic of Slovenia have the right to urgent or necessary health care services, the payment for which is provided in accordance with the European legal order, international agreements or from the state budget. The lights of your vehicle have to be turned on 24 hours a day. You have to use winter equipment on your vehicle between 15 November and 15 March. You have to use seat belts at all times. The use of mobile phones is prohibited while driving.

Culture and Sightseeing

Celje's rich history has left it brimming with things to see and do, from Gothic churches to one of a kind museums and galleries to peaceful parks and squares. If you have time to venture out of town, there's lots to do for sports enthusiasts, including the hilltop recreation centre of Celjska Koča, the summer time hot spot Šmartinsko Lake and for history buffs the Roman Necropolis a bit farther away.

Telephone & Postal Services

You can make phone calls at post offices, which are usually open on weekdays between 8.00 and 19.00 and on Saturdays until 13.00. To use public phones you need a telephone card, which can be bought at tobacconist's, at stationers or at a post office. When making an international phone call you have to dial 00, a foreign country's international code and a phone number. To call Slovenia you have to dial 00, the national code 386 and a town code (Celje - 3, Maribor - 2, Ljubljana - 1). You can call national telephone information service at 1188 or international telephone information service at 1180.

We recommend foreign students to purchase a Slovenian SIM card (a prepaid phone service) that can be used in suitable mobile telephones (made for the European market) so as to enable very inexpensive local calls and at the same time to be available for incoming calls from abroad.

Useful telephone numbers:

Slovenian Country Code	386
Celje City Code	3
Slovenian Exit Code	00
Police	113
Fire Brigade	112
Emergency First Aid	112

Post offices are open Monday to Friday from 8.00 to 18.00, and on Saturdays until 12.00.

Celje postcode is 3000

Shops

Some locals claim that Celje has the most shopping centres in the country, while other insist that the city only has the most per capita shopping centres in Slovenia. While we haven't independently verified either claim, suffice to say you shouldn't have any problems finding what you need while you're in town. Of course if you prefer a more old-fashioned shopping experience, the cobbled streets of Celje's old town are lined with various boutiques, bookshops, art galleries and a surprising number of independent design shops.

More information

Working hours:

Nightlife in Celje

Celje manages to maintain a fairly vibrant youth-oriented nightlife, with a decent mix of pubs, dive bars, glitzier clubs, live music venues and alternative spaces to keep you busy for even longer stays. If a pub crawl is on the agenda, look no further than the stretch of Ljubljanska cesta between Narodni Dom and Gledališki Trg, which boasts no fewer than eight night spots and several late night fast food stands.

The locations listed here are far from exhaustive, but all of them have been thoroughly tested and many can make the claim of being one of our personal favourites depending on the night of the week.

Tap water is safe and drinkable throughout the country.
